WORK SESSION

NC State University Engineering Report by Dr. Barbara Doll - Cashie River Basin storm water control and flow diversion feasibility study, and the Board also will consider dates for the final joint presentation to include Dr. Stan Riggs, ECU and NCLW

Dr. Barbara Doll of NC State University provided a PowerPoint presentation to the two Boards present, as well as to the public.

The presentation included a summary of her final report of the Cashie River Basin storm water control and flow diversion feasibility study that was ordered by the Bertie County Board of Commissioner and the Town of Windsor approximately one year ago.

The research team from NC State investigated all elements of flood prevention and causation in the County including roadside culverts and ditching. The team also discussed how other Eastern Carolina rivers can provide additional hazards to the Roanoke and Cashie River during major rain events.
